To Our Shareholders:

CGM Focus Fund decreased -17.2% during the fourth quarter of 2018 compared to the Standard and Poor's 500 Index (S&P 500 Index) which decreased -13.5%. For the twelve months ended December 31, 2018, CGM Focus Fund decreased -24.7% while the S&P 500 Index decreased -4.4%.

The Year in Review and Economic Outlook

U.S. stocks started the year with healthy momentum as the S&P 500 Index jumped 5.7% for the month of January. In early 2018 stocks were rewarded by robust corporate earnings, increased U.S. consumer income and spending, escalating business investment and the prospects for additional U.S. growth created by the recently passed tax reform package. The market also benefited from signs of improving global growth, including in the Eurozone, where industrial production expanded and unemployment reached a nine-year low. In early February, The Labor Department reported that the tightening labor market pushed January wages to their largest annual gain in nine years, rising 2.9%. In addition the Consumer Price Index for January climbed a surprising 2.1% from a year earlier. These emerging inflation indicators rattled the market in early February; stocks gave up their gains for the year and fell into correction territory with the Dow Jones Industrial Average plummeting 1,175.21 on February 5 in the largest single day point drop in its history. In early March, the Trump administration initiated a 25% tariff on steel imports and 10% tariff on aluminum imports in an attempt to boost the U.S. steel and aluminum industries and reduce the U.S. trade deficit with China. Stocks initially dipped on the threat of a possible trade war with China but recovered some of their losses when Canada and Mexico were temporarily exempted from the tariffs.

Trade tensions would dominate the news and impact stocks for much of the rest of the year. In early April, China countered U.S. tariffs with levies on various U.S. goods, especially agriculture. Stocks fluctuated in response to threats of further sanctions and occasional conciliatory statements from both the U.S. and China. The Labor Department released its Employment Cost Index in April which indicated that wages and benefits rose 2.7% for the twelve months ended in March. This was the largest annual increase in almost ten years and provided additional evidence that the long stretch of low unemployment was beginning to meaningfully impact labor costs and create upward inflationary pressure. Employment numbers continued their remarkable stretch with the unemployment rate dropping to 3.8% in May. Evidence that inflation was also beginning to impact consumer prices was provided by the Commerce Department's Personal Consumption Expenditures Price Index, which hit the Federal Reserve's target of 2% growth for the twelve months ended in March. In early May the market reacted favorably to the U.S. announcement of its withdrawal from the Iran nuclear deal and oil prices spiked on the presumption that renewed sanctions on Iran would reduce the supply of an already tight oil market. At the end of May, U.S. steel and aluminum tariffs went into effect for the European Union, Canada and Mexico and the anticipation of retaliatory sanctions negatively impacted U.S. stocks.

U.S. stocks enjoyed strong performance in the third quarter while markets around much of the rest of the world struggled. While the U.S. and China continued to impose and threaten additional tariffs on each other, tensions between the U.S. and Europe moderated. The two sides agreed to refrain from new tariffs and work to ease existing trade barriers. In late July, the Commerce Department reported Gross Domestic Product increased at a 4.2% annual rate for the second quarter, reflecting strong business investment and healthy consumer spending. A later Commerce Department report indicated that retail sales in July increased 6.4% from the previous year. Consumer spending accounts for about two-thirds of U.S. economic output and a robust retail sales report suggested that rising employment and wages contributed to the boost in spending. In August the market applauded a revised trade agreement between the U.S. and Mexico, and the S&P 500 Index reached a new high on August 24, setting the record for the longest bull-run ever. Through September, rising oil prices provided additional evidence of inflationary pressures. A weakening dollar, the announcement of forthcoming U.S. sanctions on Iran and the decision by OPEC and other allied oil producers to refrain from increasing production sent oil prices higher. The price for Brent crude, the global benchmark for oil, reached $81.20 per barrel on September 24, its highest settlement since November 2014.

Market conditions grew more challenging in the fourth quarter. Technology stocks and stocks of companies exposed to world markets were dragged down on fears of increasing U.S.-China trade tensions and mounting evidence of a slowdown in the Chinese economy. These fears were temporarily alleviated when the two countries agreed in early December to postpone further tariffs and return to the negotiating table. Concerns about the Chinese economy and slowing global growth dropped the price of oil from its recent high into bear market territory. While most markets around the world retreated on fears of an economic slowdown one bright spot was Brazil, where stocks jumped on the presidential election of Jair Bolsonaro, who promised fiscal reforms and a pro-business environment. By year-end, fear of a global economic slowdown pushed the U.S. stock market into its worst annual decline since the 2008 financial crisis. Despite the difficult market conditions, overall U.S. economic growth remains strong with historically low unemployment and continued gains in manufacturing and corporate earnings.

Portfolio Strategy

CGM Focus Fund was fully invested during 2018 in expectation of an expanding global economy. The largest positions during the year were in oil and gas production, oil refining, cruise lines, financial companies and retailers. The Fund also had significant short positions in U.S. government bonds, real estate investment trusts and select technology companies.

The largest losses were in oil refining, oil and gas production and cruise lines. Losses also occurred in U.S. financial institutions.

Short sale results were mixed with significant losses in real estate investment trusts and small gains on U.S. government bond short sales and technology stock short sales.

On December 31, 2018 CGM Focus Fund was 24.7% invested in money center banks, 17.4% invested in oil-independent production and 13.9% invested in oil refining. The three largest holdings were Banco Bradesco S.A. ADR (money center bank), Vale S.A. ADR (metals and mining) and Petroleo Brasileiro S.A. - Petrobras ADR (oil - independent production). Approximately 89.5% of the portfolio was invested in securities sold short.

CGM FOCUS FUND

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS — December 31, 2018

1. Organization — CGM Focus Fund (the "Fund") is a diversified series of CGM Trust (the "Trust") which is organized as a Massachusetts business trust under the laws of Massachusetts pursuant to an Agreement and Declaration of Trust. The Trust is registered under the Investment Company Act of 1940 as an open-end management investment company and is following accounting and reporting guidance in the Financial Accounting Standards Board's ("FASB") Topic 946 "Financial Services—Investment Companies". The Trust has two other funds whose financial statements are not presented herein. The Fund commenced operations on September 3, 1997. The Fund's investment objective is long-term growth of capital. The Fund intends to pursue its objective by investing in a smaller number of companies, and/or in a more limited number of sectors than other diversified mutual funds. In addition, should the investment outlook of the Fund's investment adviser so warrant, the Fund may engage in a variety of investment techniques including short sales designed to capitalize on declines in the market price of specific securities of one or more companies, or declines in market indexes or government securities.

2. Significant accounting policies — Management has evaluated the events and transactions from December 31, 2018 through the date of issuance of the Fund's financial statements. For the Fund, there were no material subsequent events that required disclosure in the financial statements or footnotes.

A. Security valuation — Equity securities are valued on the basis of valuations furnished by a pricing service, authorized by the Board of Trustees (the "Board"). Equity securities listed or regularly traded on a securities exchange or in the over-the-counter ("OTC") market are valued at the last quoted sale price or, for certain markets, the official closing price at the time the valuations are made. A security that is listed or traded on more than one exchange is valued at the quotation on the exchange determined to be the primary market for such security. For securities with no sale reported, the last reported bid price is used for long positions and the last reported ask price for short positions. Corporate debt securities are valued on the basis of valuations furnished by a pricing service, authorized by the Board, which determines valuations for normal, institutional-size trading units of such securities using market information, transactions for comparable securities and various relationships between securities which are generally recognized by institutional traders. United States government debt securities held long are valued at the current closing bid and if held short are valued at the current closing ask, as last reported by a pricing service approved by the Board.

When current market prices or quotations are not readily available or do not accurately reflect fair value, valuations may be determined in accordance with procedures adopted by the Board. For example, when developments occur between the close of a market and the close of the New York Stock Exchange ("NYSE") that may materially affect the value of some or all of the securities, or when trading in a security is halted, these procedures may be used. The frequency with which these procedures are used is unpredictable. These valuation procedures may result in a change to a particular security's assigned level within the fair value hierarchy described below. The value of securities used for net asset value ("NAV") calculation under these procedures may differ from published prices for the same securities.

The Fund may use valuation techniques consistent with the market, income, and cost approach to measure fair value. The market approach uses prices and other relevant information generated by market transactions involving identical or comparable assets or liabilities. The income approach uses valuation techniques to convert future amounts (cash flows, earnings) to a single present amount. The cost approach is based on the amount that currently would be required to replace the service capacity of an asset. To increase consistency and comparability in fair value measurements and related disclosure, the Fund utilizes a fair value hierarchy which prioritizes the various inputs to valuation techniques used to measure fair value into three broad levels:

- Level 1 - Prices determined using: quoted prices in active markets for identical securities that the Fund has the ability to access at the measurement date. Valuation adjustments are not applied to Level 1 investments.

- Level 2 - Prices determined using: other significant observable inputs (including quoted prices for similar securities, interest rates, prepayment spreads, credit risk, etc.).
- Level 3 - Prices determined using: significant unobservable inputs, including the Fund's own assumptions and judgment in determining the fair value of investments. In situations where quoted prices or observable inputs are unavailable (for example, when there is little or no market activity for an investment at the end of the period), unobservable inputs may be used. Unobservable inputs reflect the Fund's own assumptions about the factors market participants would use in pricing an investment, and would be based on the best information available in the circumstances. Investments falling into the Level 3 category are primarily supported by quoted prices from brokers and dealers participating in the market for those investments. However, these may be classified as Level 3 investments due to lack of market transparency and corroboration to support these quoted prices. Additionally, valuation models may be used as the pricing source for any remaining investments classified as Level 3. These models rely on one or more significant unobservable inputs and/or significant assumptions by Capital Growth Management Limited Partnership, the Fund's investment adviser ("CGM"). Inputs used in valuations may include, but are not limited to, financial statement analysis, capital account balances, discount rates and estimated cash flows, and comparable company data.

The inputs or methodology used for valuing securities are not necessarily an indication of the risk associated with investing in those securities. The following is a summary of the inputs used to value the Fund's investments as of December 31, 2018:

Classification	Valuation Inputs
	Level 1 - Quoted Prices	Level 2 - Other Significant Observable Inputs	Level 3 - Significant Unobservable Inputs

* All common stocks held in the Fund are Level 1 securities. For a detailed break-out of common stocks by major industry classification, please refer to the Schedule of Investments.

- B. Security transactions and related investment income — Security transactions are accounted for on the trade date plus one basis for daily NAV calculations. However, for financial reporting purposes, investment transactions are reported on the trade date (date the order to buy or sell is executed). Dividend income and expense is recorded on the ex-dividend date net of applicable foreign taxes, a portion of which may be recoverable. The Fund will accrue such taxes and recoveries as applicable based upon its current interpretations of the tax rules and regulations that exist in the markets in which it invests. Interest income and expense is recorded on an accrual basis and includes amortization of premium and discount. Net gain or loss on securities sold is determined on the identified cost basis and may include proceeds from litigation. Distributions from publicly traded partnerships are generally recorded based on the characterization reported on the Fund's schedule K-1 received from the partnership. Non-cash dividend payments, if any, are recorded at the fair market value of the securities received.

- C. Federal income taxes — It is the Fund's policy to comply with the requirements of the Internal Revenue Code ("IRC") applicable to regulated investment companies, and to distribute to its shareholders all of its taxable income and net realized capital gains, within the prescribed time period.

Capital accounts within the financial statements are adjusted for permanent book/tax differences. These adjustments have no impact on the Fund's net assets or results of operations. Temporary book/tax differences, if any, will reverse in a subsequent period. Any difference between book basis and tax basis unrealized depreciation is attributable primarily to the temporary book/tax difference of tax deferral of losses on wash sales.

As of December 31, 2018, the components of distributable earnings on a tax basis were as follows:

Undistributed Ordinary Income	Undistributed Long-term Capital Gains	Net Unrealized Appreciation/ (Depreciation)
$25,069	—	$(14,467,362)

The identified cost of investments in securities and securities sold short owned by the Fund for federal income tax purposes, and their respective gross unrealized appreciation and depreciation at December 31, 2018 was as follows:

Identified Cost*	Gross Unrealized Appreciation	Gross Unrealized Depreciation	Net Unrealized Depreciation
$80,876,046	$98,752,220	$(113,219,582)	$(14,467,362)

* The cost basis has been reduced by the proceeds of the short positions ($650,394,085) at December 31, 2018. Since the cost basis includes the proceeds from short sales it may result in a net negative cost basis.

The Fund is permitted to carry forward capital losses for an unlimited period, and such losses, when carried forward, retain their character as either short-term or long-term capital losses. As of December 31, 2018, the capital loss carryforwards utilized and the accumulated net realized loss on sales of investments for federal income tax purposes which are available to offset future taxable gains, prior to distributing such gains to shareholders, are shown in the table below:

Short-term Capital Loss Carryforward Utilized	Long-term Capital Loss Carryforward Utilized	Total	Remaining Short-term Capital Loss Carryforward	Remaining Long-term Capital Loss Carryforward	Total

Management has concluded that there are no significant uncertain tax positions for the open tax years as of December 31, 2018 that would require recognition in the financial statements. However, management's conclusion may be subject to review and adjustment at a later date based on factors including, but not limited to, new tax laws, regulations, and administrative interpretations (including relevant court decisions). Generally, the Fund's federal tax returns for the prior three fiscal years remain subject to examination by the Internal Revenue Service.

- D. Dividends and distributions to shareholders — Dividends and distributions are recorded by the Fund on the ex-dividend date. The classification of income and capital gains distributions is determined in accordance with income tax regulations. Distributions from net investment income and short-term capital gains are treated as ordinary income for income tax purposes. Permanent book/tax differences relating to shareholder distributions may result in reclassifications to paid-in capital or accumulated realized gain/(loss). Permanent book/tax differences are primarily attributable to dividends on short positions which were held less than forty-five days and foreign currency gains/losses. The Fund also may utilize earnings and profits distributed to shareholders on redemption of shares as a part of the dividend deduction for income tax purposes. Undistributed net investment income or accumulated net investment loss may include temporary book/tax differences such as tax deferral of losses on wash sales and disallowed interest expense deduction, which will reverse in a subsequent period. Any taxable income or gain remaining at fiscal year end is distributed in the following year.

The tax characterization of distributions is determined on an annual basis. The tax character of distributions paid during the periods ended December 31, 2018 and 2017 were as follows:

Year	Ordinary Income	Long-term Capital Gains	Total
2018	$ 2,338,045	—	$ 2,338,045

- E. Short sales — The Fund may sell securities short. A short sale is a transaction in which the Fund sells a security it does not own in anticipation that the market price of that security will decline. When the Fund makes a short sale, it must borrow the security sold short to make delivery to the buyer. The Fund is then obligated to replace the security borrowed by purchasing the security at the market price at the time of the replacement. The Fund is liable for any fees, dividends or interest paid on securities sold short, which are recorded as expenses on the Statement of Operations. The net amount of income and/or fees are included as interest expense on short sales on the Statement of Operations. While the short sale is outstanding, the Fund is required to collateralize its obligations, which has the practical effect of limiting the extent to which the Fund may engage in short sales. Under certain market conditions, short sales can increase the volatility of the Fund and may lower the Fund's return or result in losses, which potentially may be unlimited. The market value of securities held in a segregated account at December 31, 2018, was $220,813,500 and the value of cash held in a segregated account at December 31, 2018 was $580,417,339.
- F. Guarantees and indemnifications — Under the Trust's organizational documents, its officers and trustees are indemnified against certain liabilities arising out of the performance of their duties for the Fund. Additionally, in the normal course of business, the Fund may enter into contracts with service providers that contain general indemnification clauses. The Fund's maximum exposure under these arrangements is unknown, as this would involve future claims that may be made against the Fund that have not yet occurred. The risk of material loss from such claims is considered remote.

- G. Foreign currency translation — All assets and liabilities initially expressed in terms of foreign currencies are translated into U.S. dollars each day at the prevailing exchange rate. Transactions affecting Statement of Operations accounts and net realized gain or loss on investments are translated at the rates prevailing at the dates of the transactions. The Fund does not isolate that portion of the results of operations resulting from changes in foreign exchange rates on investments from the fluctuations arising from changes in market prices of securities held. Such fluctuations are included with the net realized and unrealized gain or loss from investments. Reported net realized foreign exchange gains or losses arise from sales of foreign currency, currency gains or losses realized between the trade and settlement dates on securities transactions and the difference between the amounts of dividends, interest, and foreign withholding taxes recorded on the Fund's books and the U.S. dollar equivalent of the amounts actually received or paid. Net unrealized foreign exchange gains or losses arise from changes in the value of assets and liabilities other than investments in securities at the end of the period, resulting from changes in the exchange rate.
- H. Repurchase agreements — The Fund enters into repurchase agreements, under the terms of a Master Repurchase Agreement, secured by U.S. Government or Agency securities, which involve the purchase of securities from a counterparty with a simultaneous commitment to resell the securities at an agreed upon date and price. Certain repurchase agreements are tri-party arrangements whereby the collateral is held in a segregated account for the benefit of the Fund and on behalf of the counterparty. Repurchase agreements afford the Fund the opportunity to earn a return on temporarily available cash at minimal market risk. While the underlying security may be a bill, certificate of indebtedness, note or bond issued by an agency, authority or instrumentality of the U.S. Government, the obligation of the seller is not guaranteed by the U.S. Government and there is a risk that the seller may fail to repurchase the underlying security. Consequently, there may be possible delays or restrictions upon the Fund's ability to dispose of the underlying securities. Upon an event of default under the Master Repurchase Agreement, the Fund would attempt to exercise its rights with respect to the underlying security, including taking possession of the cash and/or collateral provided by the seller.
- At December 31, 2018, the Fund had an investment in a repurchase agreement with a gross value of $5,735,000 on the Statement of Assets and Liabilities. The value of the related collateral consisting of cash, interest and/or securities of $5,874,468 exceeded the value of the repurchase agreement at December 31, 2018 by $139,468.
- I. Use of estimates — The preparation of financial statements in accordance with U.S. Generally Accepted Accounting Principles ("GAAP") requires management to make certain estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, the disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenue and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.
- 3. Risks and uncertainties
- A. Risks associated with focused investing — The Fund, although diversified, takes a focused approach to investing within particular industries or sectors of the economy and may invest in a relatively small number of individual holdings. Therefore, the Fund may be subject to greater price volatility and may be more adversely affected by the performance of particular industries, sectors, or individual holdings than would a more diversified fund. In addition, funds that invest more heavily in certain industries, sectors or individual holdings are particularly susceptible to the impact of market, economic, regulatory and other factors affecting those investments.
- B. Risks associated with foreign investments — The Fund may invest in securities issued by institutions, corporations, and governments established by or located in foreign countries, which may be developed or undeveloped countries. Investing in foreign securities may involve significant risks. For example, there is generally less publicly available information about foreign companies, particularly those not subject to the disclosure and reporting requirements of the U.S. securities laws. Foreign issuers are generally not bound by uniform accounting, auditing, and financial reporting requirements and standards of practice comparable to those applicable to domestic issuers. Investments in foreign securities also involve the risk of possible adverse changes in investment or exchange control regulations, expropriation or confiscatory taxation, political or financial instability or diplomatic and other developments which could affect such investments. Foreign stock markets, while growing in volume and sophistication, are generally not as developed as those in the U.S., and securities of some foreign issuers (particularly those located in developing countries) may be less liquid and more volatile than securities of comparable U.S. companies. In general, there is less overall governmental supervision and regulation of foreign securities markets, broker-dealers and issuers than in the U.S. Additionally, because some foreign securities the Fund may acquire are purchased with and payable in foreign currencies, the value of these assets as measured in U.S. dollars may be affected favorably or unfavorably by changes in currency rates and exchange control regulations. There is no limit on the amount that the Fund may invest in issuers located in a single country or in foreign countries in the aggregate. To the extent the Fund focuses its investments in a single country or only a few countries in a particular geographic region, economic, political, regulatory or other conditions affecting such country or region may have a greater impact on Fund performance relative to a more geographically diversified fund.

A substantial portion of the Fund's portfolio is invested in American Depositary Receipts of companies domiciled in Brazil. The risks of foreign investments described above are generally heightened when investing in issuers in emerging market countries, such as Brazil. Investing in Brazilian issuers involves certain special risks, including investment and repatriation controls, fluctuations in the rate of exchange between Brazil's currency (the Real) and the U.S. Dollar, political instability, corruption and price volatility. In addition, the market for Brazilian securities is influenced by the flow of international capital and economic and market conditions of certain countries, especially other emerging market countries in Central and South America. The Brazilian economy has historically been exposed to high rates of inflation and a high level of debt, each of which may reduce and/or prevent economic growth. Brazilian securities may also be particularly sensitive to market movements because their market prices tend to reflect speculative expectations.

4. Purchases and sales of securities — For the year ended December 31, 2018, purchases and sales of securities other than U.S. Government or Agency obligations and short-term investments aggregated $5,051,457,846 and $5,206,594,577, respectively. Short sales for U.S. Treasury bonds for the year ended December 31, 2018 were $110,045,313.

5. Fees and expenses

- A. Management fees — During the year ended December 31, 2018, the Fund incurred management fees of $8,443,708, paid or payable monthly to CGM, certain officers and employees of which are also officers and trustees of the Fund. The management agreement provides for a fee at the annual rate of 1.00% on the first $500 million of the Fund's average daily net assets, 0.95% of the next $500 million of the Fund's average daily net assets and 0.90% on amounts in excess of $1 billion of the Fund's average daily net assets.
- B. Other expenses — The majority of expenses are directly attributable to the Fund. Expenses that are not readily attributable to the Fund are allocated among each of the three funds comprising the Trust in an equitable manner, taking into consideration, among other things, the nature and type of expense and the funds' respective net assets. CGM performs certain administrative, accounting, compliance and other services for the Fund. The expenses of those services, which are paid to CGM by the Fund, include the following: (i) expenses for personnel performing bookkeeping, accounting and financial reporting and clerical functions relating to the Fund; (ii) expenses for services required in connection with the preparation of registration statements and prospectuses, shareholder reports and notices, proxy solicitation material furnished to shareholders of the Fund or regulatory authorities and reports and questionnaires for Securities and Exchange Commission ("SEC") compliance; (iii) registration, filing and other fees in connection with requirements of regulatory authorities and (iv) compliance in connection to the Investment Company Act of 1940 and the Sarbanes-Oxley Act of 2002. The accounting, administration and compliance expenses of $603,385, for the year ended December 31, 2018, are shown separately in the Statement of Operations. These expenses include the reimbursement of a portion of the compensation expenses incurred by CGM for its employees who provide these administrative, accounting, compliance, and other services to the Fund, including $521,988 of the salaries of CGM employees who are officers of the Fund.

- C. Trustees fees and expenses — The Fund does not pay any compensation directly to any trustees who are "interested persons" (as defined in the Investment Company Act of 1940) of CGM or any affiliate of CGM (other than registered investment companies). For the year ended December 31, 2018, each disinterested trustee was compensated by the Trust with an annual fee of $90,000 plus travel expenses for each meeting attended. The disinterested trustees are responsible for the audit committee functions of the Trust's Board and have designated a disinterested trustee to lead the Board's efforts in overseeing those functions, who receives an additional $30,000 annually. Of these amounts, the Fund is responsible for $10,000 per trustee annually, plus an annual variable fee calculated based on the proportion of the Fund's average net assets relative to the aggregate average net assets of the Trust.

6. Recent accounting pronouncement

- A. Fair value measurement — In August 2018, the FASB issued Accounting Standards Update 2018-13, Fair Value Measurement (Topic 820) - Disclosure Framework - Changes to the Disclosure Requirements for Fair Value Measurement ("ASU 2018-13") which introduces new fair value disclosure requirements and eliminates and modifies certain existing fair value disclosure requirements. ASU 2018-13 would be effective for fiscal years beginning after December 15, 2019, and interim periods within those fiscal years; however, management has elected to adopt ASU 2018-13 effective with the current reporting period. The impact of the fund's adoption is limited to changes in the fund's financial statement disclosures regarding fair value, primarily those disclosures related to transfers between levels of the fair value hierarchy.
- B. New disclosure requirements — In August 2018, the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) released its Final Rule on Disclosure Update and Simplification which is intended to simplify an issuer's disclosure compliance efforts by removing redundant or outdated disclosure requirements without significantly altering the mix of information provided to investors. In accordance with new reporting requirements, the presentation of certain amounts on the Statement of Changes in Net Assets for the year ended December 31, 2018, has been conformed to meet the new disclosure requirements. These adjustments include Distributions to Shareholders; where the prior disclosure separately stated distributions from net investment income and distributions from net realized capital gains of the Fund, they are now combined into a single line item.

REPORT OF INDEPENDENT REGISTERED PUBLIC ACCOUNTING FIRM

To the Board of Trustees of CGM Trust and Shareholders of CGM Focus Fund

Opinion on the Financial Statements

We have audited the accompanying statement of assets and liabilities, including the schedule of investments, of CGM Focus Fund (the "Fund") as of December 31, 2018, the related statement of operations for the year ended December 31, 2018, the statement of changes in net assets for each of the two years in the period ended December 31, 2018, including the related notes, and the financial highlights for each of the five years in the period ended December 31, 2018 (collectively, referred to as the "financial statements"). In our opinion, the financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Fund as of December 31, 2018, the results of its operations for the year then ended, the changes in its net assets for each of the two years in the period ended December 31, 2018 and the financial highlights for each of the five years in the period ended December 31, 2018 in conformity with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

Basis for Opinion

These financial statements are the responsibility of the Fund's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the Fund's financial statements based on our audits. We are a public accounting firm registered with the Public Company Accounting Oversight Board (United States) ("PCAOB") and are required to be independent with respect to the Fund in accordance with the U.S. federal securities laws and the applicable rules and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission and the PCAOB.

We conducted our audits of these financial statements in accordance with the standards of the PCAOB. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement, whether due to error or fraud.

Our audits included performing procedures to assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to error or fraud, and performing procedures that respond to those risks. Such procedures included examining, on a test basis, evidence regarding the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. Our audits also included evaluating the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements. Our procedures included confirmation of securities owned as of December 31, 2018 by correspondence with the custodian and brokers; when replies were not received from brokers, we performed other auditing procedures. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

FUND EXPENSES

As a shareholder of CGM Focus Fund, you incur two types of costs: (1) transaction costs, which could include, among other charges, wire fees and custodial maintenance fees for certain types of accounts and (2) ongoing costs, including management fees and other Fund expenses. This example is intended to help you understand your ongoing costs (in dollars) of investing in the Fund and to compare these costs with the ongoing costs of investing in other mutual funds.

The example is based on an investment of $1,000 invested at the beginning of the period and held for the entire period July 1, 2018 to December 31, 2018.

Actual return and expenses

The first line of the table below provides information about actual account values and actual expenses.

You may use the information in this line, together with the amount you invested, to estimate the expenses that you paid over the period. Simply divide your account value by $1,000 (for example, an $8,600 account value divided by $1,000 = 8.6), then multiply the result by the number in the first line under the heading entitled "Expenses Paid During Period" to estimate the expenses you paid on your account during this period.

Hypothetical example for comparison purposes

The second line of the table below provides information about hypothetical account values and hypothetical expenses based on the Fund's actual expense ratio and an assumed rate of return of 5% per year before expenses, which is not the Fund's actual return. The hypothetical account values and expenses may not be used to estimate the actual ending account balance or expenses you paid for the period.

You may use this information to compare the ongoing costs of investing in the Fund and other funds. To do so, compare this 5% hypothetical example with the 5% hypothetical examples that appear in the shareholder reports of the other funds.

Please note that the expenses shown in the table are meant to highlight your ongoing costs only and do not reflect any transactional costs such as any wire fees or custodial maintenance fees that may be payable. Therefore, the second line of the table is useful in comparing ongoing costs only, and will not help you determine the relative total costs of owning different funds. In addition, if these transactional costs were included, your costs would have been higher.

	Beginning Account Value 07/01/18	Ending Account Value 12/31/18	Expenses Paid During Period* 07/01/18 - 12/31/18
Actual	$1,000.00	$ 919.49	$9.60
Hypothetical (5% return before expenses)	$1,000.00	$1,015.20	$10.08

* Expenses are equal to the Fund's annualized expense ratio of 1.98%, which includes expenses related to short sales activity, multiplied by the average account value over the period, multiplied by 184/365 (to reflect the one-half year period).

TRUSTEES AND OFFICERS

The Fund is supervised by the Board of Trustees (the “Board”) of the Trust. The Board is responsible for the general oversight of the Fund, including general supervision and review of the Fund’s investment activities. The Board, in turn, elects the officers who are responsible for administering the Fund’s day-to-day operations.

An asterisk in the following table identifies those trustees and officers who are “interested persons” of the Trust as defined in the Investment Company Act of 1940. Each trustee and officer of the Trust noted as an interested person is interested by virtue of that individual’s position with CGM, as described in the table below. Each trustee serves during the continued lifetime of the Trust, until he or she earlier dies, resigns or is removed, or if sooner, until the election and qualification of his or her successor. Each officer serves until his or her successor is elected or qualified, or until the officer sooner dies, resigns, or is removed or becomes disqualified.

The trustees and officers of the Trust, their ages, their principal occupations during the past five years, the number of CGM Funds they oversee, and other directorships they hold are set forth below. Unless otherwise noted below, the address of each interested trustee and officer is One International Place, Boston, Massachusetts 02110. Correspondence intended for the trustees who are not “interested persons” of the Trust may be sent c/o Capital Growth Management, One International Place, Boston, Massachusetts 02110. The Statement of Additional Information for the Fund includes additional information about Fund trustees and is available on the CGM Funds' website, www.cgmfunds.com, or by calling 800-345-4048.
