Example

The example that follows is intended to help you compare the cost of investing in the Fund with the cost of investing in other mutual funds. The example assumes that you invest $10,000 in the Fund for the time periods indicated and then redeem your shares at the end of those periods. The example also assumes that your investment has a 5% return each year and that the Fund's operating expenses remain the same. Although your actual costs may be higher or lower, based on these assumptions your costs would be:

Number of years:	1	3	5	10
Cost (with or without redemption):	$132	$412	$713	$1,568

Portfolio Turnover

The Fund pays transaction costs such as commissions, when it buys and sells securities (or “turns over” the portfolio). A higher portfolio turnover rate may indicate higher transaction costs and may result in higher taxes when Fund shares are held in a taxable account. These costs, which are not reflected in annual fund operating expenses or in the example, affect the Fund’s performance. During the most recent fiscal year, the Fund’s portfolio turnover rate was 905% of the average value of its portfolio.

INVESTMENT STRATEGIES, RISKS, AND PERFORMANCE

Summary of Principal Investment Strategies

The Fund’s investment objective is long term growth of capital. The Fund intends to pursue its objective by investing a significant portion of the Fund’s assets in a smaller number of companies, industries and/or sectors than other diversified mutual funds. The Fund typically invests in stocks of between 20-40 companies at one time. Up to 25% of the Fund’s total assets may be invested in securities issued by companies within a single industry. The Fund may invest in securities of U.S. and foreign issuers. There is no limit on the extent to which the Fund may invest in foreign companies or be exposed to issuers from any particular country.

The Fund may invest in securities of issuers of any size. If market conditions so warrant, the Fund may establish short positions in specific securities or stock indices. While the Fund expects to invest primarily in equity securities, the Fund may also invest in debt and fixed income securities, including below investment grade debt and/or fixed income securities, commonly referred to as “junk bonds.” The Fund's investment adviser employs a flexible investment style and seeks to take advantage of opportunities as they arise. As a consequence of the Fund's investment strategy, the Fund generally has a high rate of portfolio turnover.

Summary of Principal Risks

The Fund has a long-term approach to achieve its investment objective and is not appropriate for investors that do not intend to hold the fund over a long term. You may lose money if you invest in the Fund. The following is a summary description of certain risks of investing in the Fund:

Market Risk. You may lose money on your investment due to a fall in prices of stocks or periods of below-average performance in the stock market or due to specific conditions that affect particular industries or issuers.

Short Sale Risk. Short sales can increase the volatility of the Fund and may lower the Fund's return or result in losses, which potentially may be unlimited.

Industry/Sector Exposure Risk. The Fund's performance could be negatively affected if it invests heavily in an industry or in a sector that performs poorly.

Risk of Investing in Fewer Issuers. If the Fund invests in larger positions in a smaller number of issuers, the Fund will be more susceptible to events negatively affecting those issuers. The Fund may invest in issuers whose securities react similarly to specific economic, market, political or other developments, which increases the risk associated with investing in fewer issuers.

Management Risk. The Fund is subject to management risk because it is actively managed and the Fund is generally invested in a small number of securities and industries. Factors that may be difficult to predict, like changes in interest rates or securities valuations, may not lead to the results intended by the investment adviser and may have an adverse effect on the value or performance of the Fund.

Foreign Securities Risk. Investments in foreign issuers are subject to risks of possible adverse political and economic developments abroad. Foreign securities markets may be less liquid and more volatile than U.S. markets. Foreign investments may also involve risks of changes in foreign currency exchange rates. To the extent the Fund focuses its investments in a single country or only a few countries in a particular geographic region, economic, political, regulatory or other conditions affecting such country or region may have a greater impact on Fund performance relative to a more geographically diversified fund.

Small and Medium-Sized Companies Risk. The Fund's investments in small and medium-sized companies involve greater risk than is typically associated with larger, more established companies because these securities may be more volatile and are more likely to have returns that vary significantly from the overall markets.

Key Personnel Risk. If one or more key individuals become unavailable to the investment adviser, including the Fund's portfolio manager, who is important to the management of the Fund's assets, the Fund could suffer material adverse effects, including substantial share redemptions that could require the Fund to sell portfolio securities at times when markets are not favorable and/or result in increased expenses to the Fund.

Recent Events. The novel coronavirus (COVID-19) pandemic and related government and public responses have impacted and may continue to impact markets around the world, and could adversely affect the financial performance of certain sectors of the economy and individual issuers. The adverse consequences and long-term effect of the pandemic cannot be accurately predicted and could negatively impact the Fund's performance and the value of an investment in the Fund.

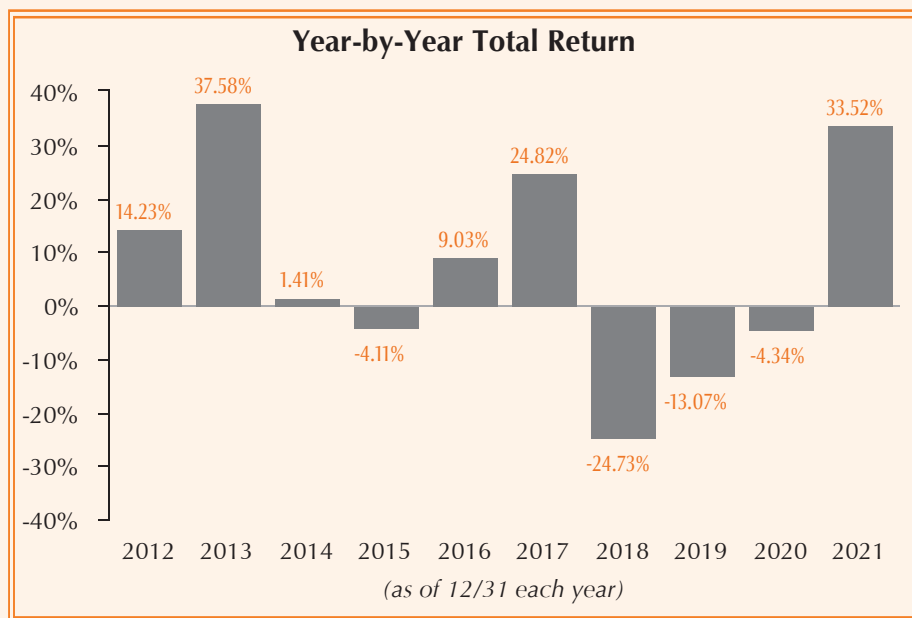

The Russian invasion of Ukraine and the possibility of wider conflict may increase volatility and uncertainty in certain financial markets and may adversely affect regional and global economies, certain sectors of the economy and individual issuers. The conflict may also further contribute to the ongoing disruption of global supply chains for various goods and commodities, including oil and natural gas.

Economic sanctions imposed on Russia and its supporters, along with any retaliatory actions or countermeasures, may exacerbate the effects of the conflict. The extent and duration of the conflict cannot be accurately predicted. The conflict and related events could negatively impact the Fund's performance and the value of an investment in the Fund, even if the Fund does not invest in issuers in countries affected by the invasion.

The Fund's investment adviser is Capital Growth Management Limited Partnership. Ken Heebner is the portfolio manager and has managed CGM Focus Fund since its inception in 1997.

PURCHASE AND SALE OF FUND SHARES

The minimum initial investment is $2,500 for regular accounts and $1,000 for retirement plans and UGMA/UTMA accounts. Subsequent investments must be at least $50.

TAX INFORMATION

PAYMENTS TO BROKER-DEALERS AND OTHER FINANCIAL INTERMEDIARIES

If you purchase Fund shares through a broker-dealer or other financial intermediary, the Fund's investment adviser may pay the intermediary periodic maintenance fees for establishing and maintaining accounts through which Fund shares are held.
